DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, 8-11, 13-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gussman (1612372). The figure shows one nozzle 16 per cylinder. The spray of oil from each nozzle is seen to be so wide as to impinge upon the piston, piston pin, and cylinder walls all at the same time.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7, 12, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gussman as applied to claims 1, 9, and 14 above, and further in view of "Prior Art". Gussman fails to disclose any check valve with the oil nozzles. The present specification discloses (page 3, lines 5-8) the use of ball check valves for alleviating excessive demands on the oil pump is known in the prior art; therefore, to do likewise in Gussman would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art shows oil nozzles directing oil against cylinder walls.
